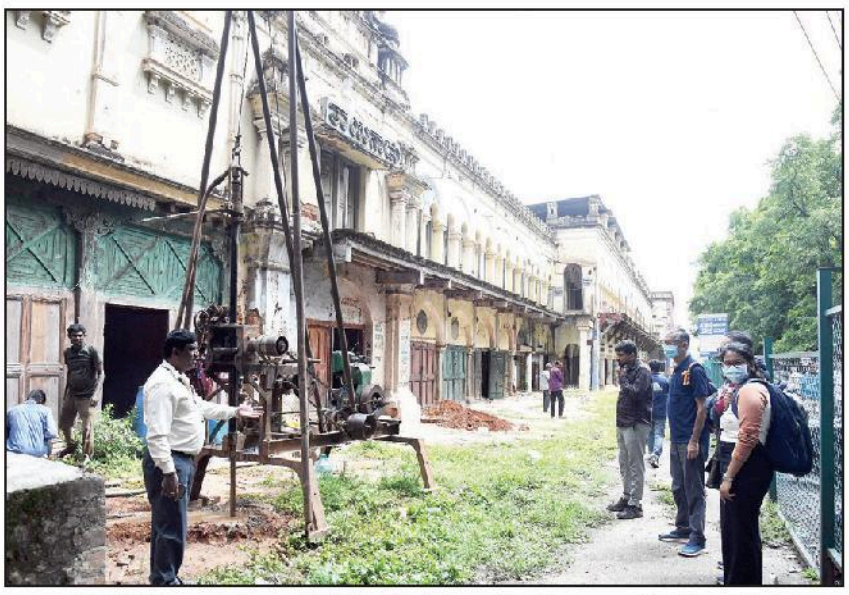
SC directive to submit study report on Lansdowne Building

INTACH collects soil, brick



INTACH experts and MCC officials collecting sand/soil and brick samples at Lansdowne Building in city this morning.

Mysuru, June 24 (RK & BS)- In a perpetuating exercise towards the conservation of the now defunct Lansdowne Building, opposite City Bus Stand in Mysuru, a team of experts from the The Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage (INTACH) have been collecting the samples of construction materials of yore.

A make-shift machinery, comprising a motor pump and metal rods, is used to dig deep into the surface in front of the Lansdowne building, a 133-year-old heritage structure, built using lime and mortar, to collect samples of the sand/soil, through an outlet pipe, to study the strength of the building. Along with this, the samples of foundation bricks used in the construction of pillars are also being collected, but in a conventional method by using a hammer and other sharp-edged materials, with the help of a deft-handed mason.

The bricks shall be pieced, apart from retaining some of the brick blocks, to test their strength to withstand the weather conditions, in a laboratory, it is said.

The INTACH team, led by retired Prof. Raghunath and comprising experts Siddarth and others, is supervising the process, with MCC Zonal Development Officer Venkatesh, Junior Engineers K.R. Chandrashekar and Mohan and 4 members of MCC Abhaya team, assisting them.

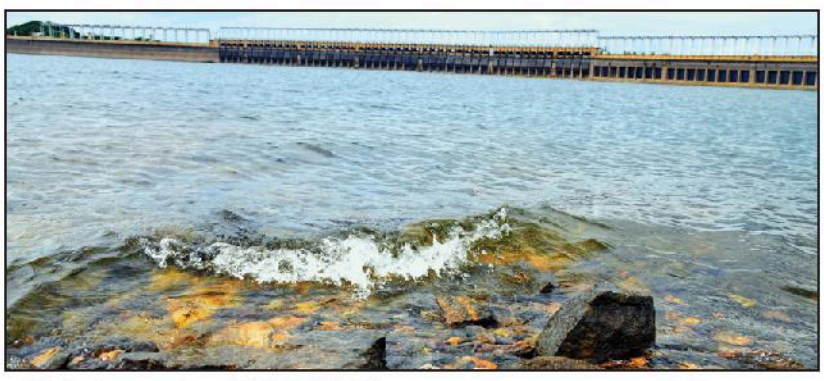
KRS Dam releases water in June



Kushalnagar, June 24 (AG & BCT)- Water was released from KRS Dam for the first time this year yesterday evening, with the Dam authorities initially releasing 5,000 cusecs and later stepping from 15,000 cusecs to 30,000 cusecs. The outflow is expected to gradually increase based on the inflow in the coming days.

Before the release, a flood alert was issued to residents of low-lying areas downstream, advising them to move to safer locations as a precautionary measure.

Interestingly, since the construction of the KRS Dam — which began in 1911 and was completed in 1932 — water has been released in June only twice: In 1941 and now in 2025, after an 84-year gap.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

THE TRANSFORMATIVE POWER OF THOUGHTFUL SPEECH: Austerity of speech is a difficult habit to imbibe but certainly not impossible. Think before you speak is a popular adage which is used extensively when tempers flare and bitter words tumble out of our mouth. It's quite easy to let anger win over us and weaken familial bonds, however it takes a lot of will power and empathy to defeat rage. But conflicts can get resolved if one person at least decides to practice austerity of speech.

Here, I must narrate a true-life story of my maternal aunt who through austerity of speech and positive demeanour overcame many life's struggles, thereby becoming a role model for me and probably many others who were fortunate to cross her path. My aunt was quite young when she married my mother's younger brother over 4 decades ago. Born and brought up in a remote village near Sringeri with ten siblings, she entered our household as a coy bride in awe of the city life and the anxiety of living with a new family. Adjusting to the idiosyncrasies of her in-laws, husband and brother-in-law was no mean task but she sailed through with flying colours thanks to her consistent efforts in speaking consciously and responsibly. Soon, relatives and neighbours started taking notice of her kind and helpful nature and she quickly earned the sobriquet of an ideal woman. Be it in dealing with a short-tempered father-in-law or cooking for a dozen unannounced guests, she seldom displayed her angst or displeasure.

"My mother would cook with a smile for over 30 people at a time, I have picked up many tips from watching her manage a huge family," she would often tell me. It's true that parents play a pivotal role in transmitting their values and beliefs to their children and Vasudha aunty was a fine example of that.

However, life tested her without mercy by repeatedly throwing tough challenges in her way. She would buckle down, albeit temporarily and rise like a phoenix, to become a best version of herself. To sum it up, her life's journey taught me that each challenge that we confront and overcome can make us stronger and wiser.

In fact, she is one of the few people who comes closest to living up to the meaning of her name — Vasudha translates to Earth or the one who contains all. In Indian mythology, the Earth is personified as a goddess who provides sustenance and nourishment to all living beings — She is all this and much more! — Rohini S. Murthy in Deccan Herald

Severe weather drops mysterious dome on road

Indianapolis: Severe weather that swept through Indianapolis left something unusual in its wake: a mysterious dome-shaped object.

Residents in the area of 19th Street and North Pasadena Street said the dome was spotted in the road after a storm swept through the area.

The strange structure drew crowds of onlookers. "Our sidewalk out here has become a tourist attraction," resident Sandy Jones said.

Some neighbours suggested the object could be a "radome," a structure designed to protect satellite antennae and other delicate equipment from weather.

High school boasts of 15 sets of twins set to graduate

New York: A high school in the suburbs of New York City will be seeing double on graduation day this weekend: Among the nearly 500 students in its graduating class, 30 are twins.

Some of the students at Long Island's Plainview-Old Bethpage John F. Kennedy High School have known each other since kindergarten, their parents meeting through a local twins club. Some even still plan family vacations together.

Among the nearly 500 students in Plainview-Old Bethpage John F. Kennedy High School's graduating class, in Long Island, New York, 30 of them are twins.

These days, some of the twins are on a group text chain, which has helped them cope with their newfound notoriety as graduation day approaches.

"Honestly when we're together, the room is electric. We're all very comfortable around each other and we all have these shared experiences so we're all bouncing off each other. It's really cool," said Sydney Monka, as she attended graduation rehearsal with the other twins.

Helmet wearing: Police must first walk the talk

Sir,

Ever since the helmet wearing rule came into force, I have been observing the attitude of the riders of two-wheelers as well as that of the Traffic Police.

I have seen Traffic Police doing the helmet check for drivers as a routine exercise and collecting fines. Though the helmet rule came into existence years back, it has miserably failed to effectively bring awareness in the minds of the riders on the importance of wearing helmets.

It looks like the Police checks are nothing but a futile, wasteful and unintelligent exercise. It is nothing less than an eye wash. I will give two reasons:

Helmet wearing is not just putting the helmet over the rider's head. Mere helmet wearing without properly securing a strap is worse than not wearing the helmet. A helmet is not an ornament. Police should have an effective plan in place for educating the riders on the importance of wearing the helmets properly with using the straps correctly.

More than 90 percent of the riders just put on the helmets and never bother to secure the straps. The most unfortunate and agonising thing is that many of the Traffic Police themselves ignore this point.

I myself have seen Traffic Police personnel right in front of the Traffic Police Station, failing to wear helmets properly. If the Police themselves have such scant respect for the rules, how do they expect it from the public. I wish the Traffic Police do some introspection in this regard and cleanse their own internal system. I would suggest the following: Police should check every two-wheeler rider for proper and correct wearing of helmets, using the straps correctly.

The rider should be educated in a friendly manner on the importance of correctly wearing a helmet. This exercise of monitoring should be regularly carried out extensively for a few months, say at least six months.

After the lapse of six months, through a notification, a heavy penalty should be levied, and the rider's licence could be suspended for a certain time for the offence of incorrect wearing.

Along with this check on the helmetless riders should continue, bringing awareness in the minds of the riders. Hope the authorities will seriously look into this matter and do the needful in public interest.

Railways to quadruple Mysuru-Bengaluru track

DPR to be submitted to Railway Board between July and December 2025; estimated project cost Rs. 6,850 crore

Mysuru, June 24 (BCT)- In a major boost to travel infrastructure and regional connectivity, the South Western Railway has set the ball rolling to quadruple the Railway lines between Bengaluru and Mysuru.

Addressing a press conference last Thursday, Ashutosh Kumar Singh, Divisional Railway Manager (DRM) of Bengaluru Division, outlined the progress of key projects in the region.

Once completed, the quadrupled lines will enable trains to run between Bengaluru and Mysuru every 10 minutes, promising passengers a faster, safer and more comfortable journey.

According to officials, the Detailed Project Report (DPR) for the quadrupling work will be submitted to the Railway Board between July and December this year. The estimated cost of the project stands at Rs. 6,850 crore.

This development comes amid ongoing discussions about extending Metro connectivity and building a dedicated Regional Rapid Transit System (RRTS) to link Bengaluru with neighbouring towns and cities.

In December 2023, the Railway Board approved the final location survey for quadrupling the Bengaluru-Mysuru section and also cleared a similar survey for a circular Railway project on Bengaluru's outskirts.

Once the project is executed, two dedicated train sets will operate: One exclusively for Bengaluru-Mysuru commuters and another connecting Mysuru with other destinations. New tracks will be laid alongside existing ones, and electrification works will be carried out simultaneously, Railway Board officials confirmed. Unlike standalone Metro lines, suburban Railway systems in India are integrated into the broader Indian Railways network, ensuring better infrastructure utilisation and network efficiency.

Namo Bharat trains proposed for Mysuru

Meanwhile, the National Capital Region Transport Corporation (NCRTC), which operates India's first semi-high-speed RRTS, has proposed to bring Namo Bharat corridors to Karnataka.

Four new corridors originating from Bengaluru have been suggested to strengthen regional connectivity and unlock economic potential in satellite cities. The proposed routes include: Bengaluru-Mysuru (145 kms), Bengaluru-Hoskote-Kolar (65 kms), Bengaluru-Tumakuru (60 kms) and Bengaluru-Hosur-Krishnagiri-Dharmapuri (138 kms, extending into Tamil Nadu)

The proposed lines aim to provide high-speed, point-to-point travel between Bengaluru and rapidly growing urban clusters. Estimated travel times are 46 minutes to Kolar or Tumakuru, and about one hour to Mysuru.

In a letter to the Karnataka Government, the NCRTC expressed readiness to prepare DPRs for these or other corridors.

Namo Bharat trains differ from Metro systems, catering to longer-distance passengers with fewer stops at higher speeds. Designed for a top speed of 180 km/h and an operational speed of 160 km/h, the trains can maintain an average speed of 90 km/h — nearly three times that of conventional Metro services.

The NCRTC has offered to send a team to Bengaluru to present the proposal to the Chief Secretary and stakeholders.

To help Karnataka officials experience the system first-hand, NCRTC has invited them to visit the operational stretch between Sarai Kale Khan and Modipuram in the Delhi-NCR region. It has also offered assistance in preparing initial documentation for the proposed corridors. The letter stressed that the RRTS adopts global best practices such as all-weather operations, advanced signalling, and exclusive viaduct or tunnel alignments to ensure reliable, high-frequency regional connectivity.

Two more Fire Stations to come up in city

Fire and Emergency Services Department seeks allotment of land from District Administration, Mysuru Development Authority

Mysuru, June 24 (GA&BS)- The City of Palaces Mysuru has been sanctioned with two more Fire Stations and the Fire and Emergency Services Department has submitted a proposal to the District Administration and Mysuru Development Authority (MDA) seeking allotment of suitable sites.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, in the previous budget 2024-25 had announced to set up Fire Stations in various districts of the State including Mysuru and the funds has been earmarked for the same. For the two Fire Stations in Mysuru, the sites have been identified near Chamundi Hill Road and T. Narasipur Road.

The city alone has three Fire Stations — one each at Saraswathipuram, Bannimantap and Hebbal. The Fire Station at Hebbal was established a decade ago, since when no new Fire Stations were established in the city. That apart, every seven taluks in the district have got one Fire Station each. The two more Fire Stations for the city, will be taking the total facility to five, once they are commissioned.

With Mysuru being the second city after Bengaluru, witnessing a rapid urbanisation with the surge in number of sky scrapers irrespective of residential and commercial buildings, apartments and other multi-storeyed buildings, the existing Fire Stations alone cannot handle the exigency at time. The increasing vehicular traffic and other traffic congestions come in the way of fast movement of fire tenders in reaching the affected spots. But still, the fire personnel have been mitigating the challenges and combating fire, averting what could have led to a major tragedy.

Following the budgetary announcement, Fire Department officials inspected the availability of Government land at Chamundi foothill, Outer Ring Road (ORR), T. Narasipur Road, Lalithadripura and Bandipalya.

Among them, the land near Dr. Rajashekar Hospital on T. Narasipur Road has been finalised and the officials have discussed the matter with Tahsildar of Mysuru taluk in this regard. The land is expected to be handed over to Fire Department soon.

Similarly, the land has been identified on Chamundi Hill Road and the matter has been brought to the notice of Mysuru Development Authority (MDA) officials. The MDA officials are set to inspect the land, it is said.

The Fire Station near Chamundi Hill is crucial, especially when fire mishaps occur at the forested area encompassing the hill. Recently, a major fire erupted in the hill forest and a major extent of forest land was gutted in the incident.

Acting Chief Fire Officer Chandan said, "The land has been identified on Chamundi Hill Road and T. Narasipur Road and the works on building the new Fire Stations are expected to start, after the lands are handed over to the Department."

MDA Commissioner K.R. Rakshith clarified that no Civic Amenities (CA) site is available on Chamundi Hill Road. Instead, a land has been identified at Nachanahalli Palya. A decision in this regard shall be taken at the Sub-Committee meeting.

Crash barriers constructed along 35-km stretch of VC Canal: DC

Mandya, June 24 (VNS)- In a bid to avoid accidents and deaths, various Departments have constructed crash barriers along 35-km stretch of Visvesvaraya Canal, said Mandya DC Dr. Kumara.

Presiding over a review meeting to discuss on preventing accidents near VC Canal yesterday, Dr. Kumara said, about 15 people had died in various accidents over the past two years following which a technical team has been formed and a proposal has been submitted to State Government for the release of Rs. 20 crore.

"While the canal spans about 540 kms, it is difficult to install barriers to the entire stretch. Hence, Public Works Department (PWD) has identified accident-prone areas and constructed crash barriers for 20-km stretch while Irrigation Department has constructed barriers for 13-km and another 2-km by others," he said.

Dr. Kumara mentioned that taking up works as a precautionary measure would be better instead of acting after the accidents are reported. He also sought report from PWD, CNNL and Hemavathi Canal Division regarding the implementation of previous suggestions including construction of scientific road humps and rumble strip, installation of sign board at various points apart from constructing crash barriers.

Dr. Kumara also informed the officials to write a letter to the CNNL Managing Director to allocate funds for preventing accidents since major portion of the roads fell under their jurisdiction.

Additional Superintendent of Police C.E. Thimmaiah, PWD Executive Engineer Harsha, Regional Transport Officer Hemavathi, Minor Irrigation Department Executive Engineer Shankar and others were present.

K.N. Subbanna takes charge as District (Rural) BJP President

Speaking on the occasion, City BJP President L. Nagendra, who is also a former Chamaraja MLA, said the Party could not make a clean sweep of the district due to various reasons. However, the BJP is sure to come to power if the party is strengthened in a planned and organised manner in the 2028 Assembly polls, he opined.

Pointing out that BJP had won in Periyapatna, Nanjangud and Hunsur segments in the past, he said BJP is favoured by many now and there is a need for better organisation. "I and Subbanna will work like a pair of ox in building the party," he added.

Charging the Congress Government of being involved in scams, Nagendra said that CM Siddaramaiah who is from Mysuru, has earned a bad reputation in MUDA scam.

State BJP Vice-President N. Mahesh, in his preliminary remarks, said the party has entrusted the responsibility of party organisation in the district to Nagendra and Subbanna. He expressed hope that the two leaders would take the party to more success in coming days.

Accusing Housing Minister Zameer Ahmed Khan of corruption, Mahesh demanded the Minister's resignation over the claims made by senior Congress MLA B.R. Patil, who had alleged allotment of houses in exchange for bribes. Stating that no one in the Congress seemed to have taken Patil's grave allegations seriously, he wanted CM to seek the resignation of Zameer and order a probe into the allegations. Congress can make Zameer as the Chief Minister if Siddaramaiah has no guts to seek the Housing Minister's resignation, he quipped.

Outgoing District President L.R. Mahadevaswamy said he had made all efforts to strengthen the party in the district. Now, he will extend full support to Subbanna, he asserted.

State BJP Vice-President M. Rajendra, former MLC C. Ramesh, Party leaders Hemanth Kumar Gowda, Mirle Srinivas Gowda, Mangala Somashekar, Shylendra, Mahadevaiah and others were present.

Govt. not interested in providing inner reservation

Accusing CM Siddaramaiah of not being inclined to introduce inner reservation among SC Communities, former MLC C. Ramesh charged the Congress Government of pulling the reservation cart backwards, instead of pushing it forward, in order to render justice to deprived sections within SC Communities.

Speaking to presspersons at the BJP Office here yesterday, Ramesh contended that the popularity of Siddaramaiah was fast eroding.

Alleging that Siddarmaiah, who claims to be a Socialist, seems to have lost his morality and also is losing grip on his cabinet colleagues, he maintained that he had not seen such a corrupt Government in his 50 years of public life.

Metagalli youths care for Temple Bull battling rabies

Mysuru, June 24 (MTY & BCT)- In a remarkable display of compassion, the youths of a Garadi Mane at Metagalli have been caring for a Temple Bull from Mahalingeshwara Temple after it was bitten by a rabid dog nearly six weeks ago.

The eight-year-old black bull, revered for its divine presence during Temple festivals, was attacked by a rabid dog that had earlier bitten several residents in areas including BEML Nagar. After the dog bite, the bull's survival was threatened and veterinarians suspected that it may have contracted rabies.

Moved by the bull's plight, a group of local youths stepped forward to protect and save the bull. Despite learning about the attack late, they administered an anti-rabies vaccine about 48 hours after the bite. Sadly, experts say delay rendered the vaccine ineffective. While the bull's behaviour has slightly changed, it has not become aggressive or posed any danger to residents.

Recognising the seriousness of the situation, the youths relocated the bull to a secure enclosure, ensuring it remained confined to a safe yet open space. They have continued to feed and water it, attending to its needs with care.

Veterinarians from the Animal Husbandry Department, who visited the site, have reiterated their concerns, advising that the animal's health be monitored closely in the days ahead. Determined not to give up, the youths have also turned to traditional herbal treatments and encouragingly, there have been signs of improvement in the bull's condition. Touched by the youths' dedication, Metagalli residents have begun offering special prayers at the Temple, hoping for the bull's recovery.

What stands out is the remarkable unity and selflessness of the Garadi Mane youths. Despite the crisis persisting for over a month, no assistance has arrived from any Hindu organisations or their volunteers. Instead, young people from other faiths have joined hands with the Garadi Mane group, setting an example of communal harmony.

"Officials from Animal Husbandry Department must intervene immediately to support the recovery effort," urged Vijay (Kanta), a resident of Metagalli. Veterinary officers have confirmed the infection's seriousness. "The bull has tested positive for rabies. Continued close observation is essential," said Dr. M.P. Poornananda, Taluk Veterinary Officer.

Unrest in ruling Congress grows as MLA says he will quit over funds

Raju Kage

Bengaluru, June 24- In a fresh blow to ruling Congress Government, Kagwad MLA Bharamagouda (Raju) Kage on Monday accused his party Government of administrative collapse and threatened to resign over stalled development works in his Constituency and lack of funds.

His statement comes after two of his fellow Congress MLAs had vented out their ire in public over slow paced development and alleged cash-for-house scam.

While Sagar MLA Belur Gopalakrishna sought the resignation of Housing Minister Zameer Ahmed Khan in connection with the alleged scam in the allotment of houses, Aland MLA B.R. Patil, who is also the Chairman of Karnataka State Policy and Planning Commission, had made allegations a few days ago about house for money scam, an audio of which had gone viral.

Kage, who is also the NWKRTC (North West Karnataka Road Transport Corporation) Chairman, said on Monday, he would meet CM Siddaramaiah in the next few days to tender his resignation, while Gopalakrishna wanted the Housing Minister to resign and allow a fair investigation into the allegation made by B.R. Patil, a senior MLA.

Ruing that no work is happening in his Kagwad Constituency (Belagavi district), Raju Kage said CM Siddaramaiah had sanctioned special grant of Rs. 25 crore in the past, which included Rs.12 crore for roads and Rs.13 crore for Community Halls. "It has been two years and we have not received work orders for 72 Halls that we want to take up," he said adding that he had raised the issue of fund shortage earlier as well.

Kage's outburst comes just days after MLA B.R. Patil said housing units are allocated in exchange for bribes.

Meanwhile, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, who was in Raichur on Monday ahead of his Delhi visit, said that he would call the dissenting Legislators for a meeting to discuss the issue, while Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar told presspersons in Bengaluru yesterday that the CM and the Housing Minister would respond to allegations.

35,000 vacant posts in Energy Dept. to be filled up soon: Chief Minister

Bengaluru, June 24 (KMS & DM)- The State Government has planned to fill up as many as 35,000 vacant posts in the Energy Department in phases.

Announcing this while taking part in the Diamond Jubilee celebration of KPTCL (Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited) here recently, CM Siddaramaiah said the services of 532 Pourakarmikas serving in KPTCL will be regularised.

Maintaining that the State Congress Government is committed to fulfilment of promises, he said that his Government is walking the talk. Asserting that the State Government would discuss re-introduction of old-pension scheme, which was also one of the pre-poll promises, Siddaramaiah said that the Government was willing to fulfil the demands of KPTCL employees.

Pointing out that the first power plant in the country was established in Karnataka in 1902, he said the first power company in the State came into being in 1905 at Bengaluru and power was supplied to Palace in 1908.

"It is a matter of pride that the State has 34,000 MW power production capacity. We plan to increase power production to 60,000 MW, which will help in supplying 7 hours of quality power to IP sets of farmers even during day time," he said.

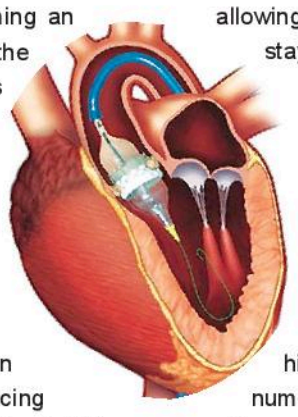
Understanding Aortic Stenosis: A Silent Threat in the Elderly

Heart Valve diseases, particularly Aortic Stenosis, are becoming an increasing concern in the aging population. As individuals grow older, natural wear and tear, calcium build-up or underlying conditions can cause the aortic valve — the gateway that allows blood to flow from the heart to the rest of the body — to become stiff or narrowed.



When the valve does not open fully, it obstructs blood flow, forcing the heart to work harder to pump blood. This added strain often leads to a range of troubling symptoms, including persistent fatigue, chest discomfort, breathlessness during simple activities, light-headedness and even episodes of fainting (syncope).

If left untreated, Aortic Stenosis can have serious and irreversible consequences. The heart muscle, over time, weakens due to the excessive workload, eventually resulting in heart failure — a condition where the heart cannot pump blood effectively to meet the body's needs. In severe cases, patients are also at risk of sudden cardiac death without prior warning.

What makes Aortic Stenosis particularly dangerous is that many people dismiss the early symptoms as signs of ageing. By the time the condition is diagnosed, it is often already in an advanced stage. Therefore, timely detection and treatment are crucial to prevent complications and improve survival and quality of life.

With advancements in modern cardiology — such as Transcatheter Aortic Valve Implantation (TAVI) — patients now have safer, minimally invasive treatment options that can dramatically improve outcomes, especially for elderly individuals who are not ideal candidates for open-heart surgery.

What is TAVI/TAVR?

Transcatheter Aortic Valve Implantation (TAVI) or Transcatheter Aortic Valve Replacement (TAVR) is a revolutionary, minimally invasive procedure to treat severe Aortic Stenosis.

A Modern, Minimally Invasive Alternative to Open Heart Surgery

For decades, the standard treatment for severe Heart Valve disease was open-heart surgery. This involved making a large incision in the chest and temporarily stopping the heart to replace the damaged valve — a process that required significant recovery time and posed considerable risks, especially for elderly or high-risk patients.

Today, TAVI has transformed the treatment landscape. This minimally invasive procedure eliminates the need to open the chest. Instead, a small puncture — usually in the groin or leg — is made to insert a thin, flexible catheter. Through this catheter, a new valve is carefully navigated to the heart and precisely positioned within the diseased aortic valve.

Once in place, the new valve expands and takes over the function of the old one, restoring normal blood flow almost instantly. The entire process is performed while the heart continues to beat, drastically reducing trauma to the body and allowing for faster recovery, shorter hospital stays and fewer complications.

This breakthrough has proven to be a game-changer for elderly and high-risk patients, offering them renewed quality of life without the burden of major surgery.

Why TAVI is a Boon for Seniors

TAVI is especially beneficial for elderly patients and those who are high-risk for Cardiac Surgery. It offers numerous advantages:

- No need for open-chest surgery
- Minimal pain and faster recovery
- Shorter hospital stays
- Quick return to daily activities
- Lower risk of complications
- Long-term results compared to surgical valve

Siddu meets Aamir Khan at Rashtrapati Bhavan

New Delhi, June 24 - Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, who is in New Delhi, met Bollywood actor Aamir Khan at the corridors of Rashtrapati Bhavan this morning. Both shook hands and exchanged pleasantries.

Siddaramaiah, who left for Delhi yesterday afternoon accompanied by Ministers Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, K.J. George and Satish Jarkiholi, met President Droupadi Murmu today with a request for her assent to pending Bills forwarded to her by Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot.

A similar method will be followed at Devaraja Market building too, another heritage structure of significance, on Sayyaji Rao Road, which has partially collapsed. The very exercise is collectively aimed at preparing a report, on the directions of the Supreme Court. In December 2024, the Supreme Court issued an interim order following a Special Leave Petition (SLP) filed by heritage advocate and author G. Sathyanarayana (popularly known as Gouri Satya) and Raja Chandra, the son-in-law of late Maharaja Jayachamaraja Wadiyar.

The SLP was filed against the Karnataka High Court's judgement dated Aug. 8, 2023, in Writ Petition No. 15215/2020 (PIL). The petition sought to restrain authorities from demolishing or reconstructing the Devaraja Market and Lansdowne Building, citing their classification as heritage structures under Section 2(1ea) of the Karnataka Town and Country Planning Act, 1961 and their inclusion in the Master Plan-2031 for the Mysuru-Nanjangud Local Planning Area (Revision-II).

A Bench, comprising Justices Sudhanshu Dhulia and Ahsanuddin Amanullah, ordered a halt to any demolition or reconstruction work and directed that notices be served to INTACH and ASI. The matter was re-listed for hearing on Jan. 8, 2025.

The State Govt. had recently floated a tender worth Rs. 35.95 crore for reconstructing the Lansdowne Building. In response, some individuals moved the Supreme Court challenging the Karnataka High Court's ruling, prompting the Apex Court to seek expert opinions from INTACH and ASI.

The SC will take a final decision — whether to raze or restore the structure — based on these expert reports, aiming to ensure a balanced approach to conservation and development of Mysuru's built heritage.

75 CCTV cameras dead, only handful guards at KRS Dam

Mega Amusement Park, Cauvery Aarti planned but basic Dam security ignored

Mysuru, June 24 (RK&BCT)- The State Government is planning a massive facelift to boost the visual appeal and entertainment value of the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam and the iconic Brindavan Gardens in Mandya.

A staggering Rs. 2,663-crore Amusement Park is on the cards, set to sprawl over 198 acres with water parks, roller coasters, a statue of Goddess Cauvery, a penguin park and a Rs. 92-crore Cauvery Aarti show.

However, in stark contrast to these grand plans, the Dam shockingly lacks even basic security infrastructure. None of the 75 CCTV cameras installed at strategic points across the Dam premises have been functional since 2021.

Over 75 cameras installed at vantage points such as the South Gate, North Gate, end point, Cauvery Statue, CNNL Executive Engineer's Office, Brindavan Garden entry, parking lot and museum have been defunct for nearly three years.

The batteries that power them have been damaged by rain, lightning and thunder. Despite crores of rupees having been spent on the installations, there has been no attempt to repair or replace them.

Security manpower tells a similar story of neglect. Although 261 personnel from the Karnataka State Industrial Security Force (KSISF) were sanctioned to guard the Dam round-the-clock with Self-Loading Rifles (SLR), only 57 are actually deployed. To make matters worse, about 10 percent of these are tied up with office and clerical duties.

The situation is so dire that barely 10 KSISF personnel are available per shift to secure the entire Dam premises, often forced to do double shifts to cover the shortage. The bulk of the sanctioned Force has been diverted to the Mysore Airport.

Until 2016, Dam security was managed by the State Police. After being handed over to KSISF, expectations were high for a more robust security set-up, but reality has fallen far short.

Repeated appeals from Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited (CNNL) to the Government to fund repairs and upgrade surveillance systems have gone unheard.

The CNNL has once again sought Rs. 10 crore to install high-definition PTZ (Pan, Tilt, Zoom) cameras and replace non-functional Hand-Held Metal Detectors (HHMDs).

They have also requested hand-held under-vehicle bomb detectors to scan the undersides of vehicles for explosives. KSISF has also written to the Government highlighting urgent security shortfalls.

While big-ticket attractions dominate headlines, the glaring lack of basic security measures leaves KRS Dam vulnerable — a situation many call misplaced priorities and a glaring lack of vision.

KRS Dam releases water in June

Typically, the Dam, considered the lifeline of South Karnataka and Tamil Nadu, releases water during July, August or September, once the reservoir reaches its full capacity of 124.80 feet.

This year, due to abundant rainfall in the Cauvery River basin, the Dam has seen significant inflows. Remarkably, in 2025, the water level reached the 100-ft mark on May 30, just after the peak summer, a rare occurrence.

This is only the second time in the past 35 years (since 1990) that the Dam has reached this level in May. According to officials from the Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited (CNNL), the last such instance was on May 11, 2022. Ordinarily, the Dam reaches the 100-ft mark only between June and July.

The substantial inflow can be attributed mainly to the above-average rainfall in the catchment areas of Kodagu district.

From January to June 23, 2025, Kodagu received 1,171 mm of rainfall against the normal 615 mm, marking a 90 percent increase. Notably, in May 2025, the district was expected to receive 138 mm but recorded 609 mm — a staggering 340 percent increase.

This trend continued in June as well. Between June 1 and June 23 (yesterday), Kodagu received 421 mm of rainfall compared to the normal 352 mm, registering an increase of 16 percent.

This excessive rainfall has significantly raised water levels in the Harangi, Hemavathi, KRS and Kabini reservoirs within the Cauvery basin.

From June 1 to June 23 alone, the cumulative inflow to the KRS Dam was 23 tmcft (thousand million cubic feet), averaging about 1 tmcft per day. Similar inflow volumes were recorded in June of 2018 and 2015.

A Rich Feast of Music and Dance in Mysuru

By Dr. Rama V. Bennur

Vid. Pattabhirama Pandit presenting a vocal concert at Veene Seshanna Bhavana in Kuvempunagar on June 13. He is accompanied by Vidu. Charulatha Ramanujam on violin, Vid. Bangalore V. Praveen on mridanga and Vid. G.S. Ramanujam on ghata.

Ganabharathi of Mysuru had organised a memorable vocal concert on June 13 in tribute to Vasudeva Udupa, a Founder-Member of the organisation. The event, held at Veene Seshanna Bhavana in Kuvempunagar, drew a packed audience — clearly reflecting the popularity of the young and dynamic vocalist, Vid. Pattabhirama Pandit. Concert was sponsored by Raghavendra Udupa.

Trained under the legendary Vid. Palghat K.V. Narayanaswamy, Pattabhirama Pandit has internalised the virtues of his guru's style. Known for his traditional approach, he now immerses himself in the divinity of music and skillfully guides his listeners along that journey. His singing stands out for its sincerity and purity of notes, while his rich manodharma (creative interpretation) unveils the subtle beauty of the ragas he presents. He was accompanied by Vidu. Charulatha Ramanujam on violin, Vid. Bangalore V. Praveen on mridanga and Vid. G.S. Ramanujam on ghata — each contributing significantly to the overall experience.

The concert opened with 'Akhilandeshwari' (Raga: Dwijavanthi, Composer: Muthuswami Dikshitar), establishing a serene atmosphere that lingered throughout the performance. This was followed by 'Mohana Rama' (Raga: Mohana, Composer: Tyagaraja), enriched with soft and melodic kalpana swaras. The thoughtful selection of compositions reflected the humility and devotional depth of the artiste. Pieces like 'Sogasuga Mridanga Taalamu' (Sri Ranjani), 'Manasuloni Marmamu' (Varamu), 'Vara Ragalaya' (Chenchukambhoji) and 'Marachiti O Maa ramana' all expressed the profound bhakti bhava that defines Pandit's music.

In 'Vara Raga Laya,' Tyagaraja deprecates the arrogance of self-proclaimed musical masters, while in 'Manasuloni,' he pleads with Lord Rama to understand his inner yearning. Pattabhirama Pandit's devotion-infused renditions communicated these emotions effectively to the audience.

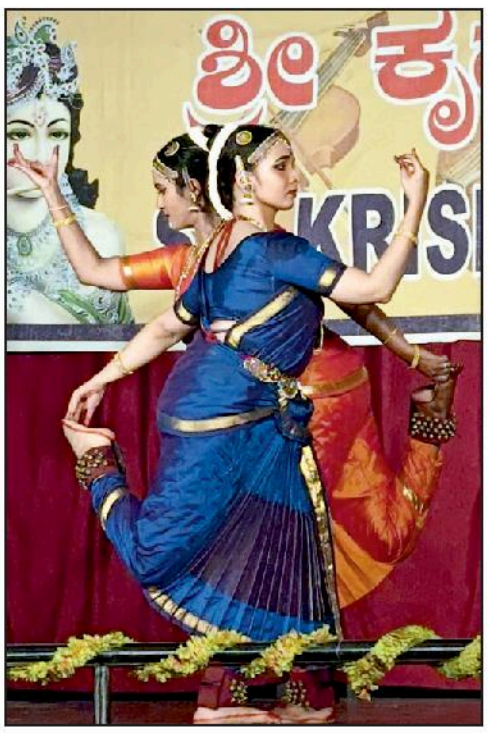
The accompanists deserve special mention. Charulatha's soft, melodious bowing elevated the mood and highlighted her virtuosity on violin. Praveen, a versatile percussionist, added energy and precision with his enthusiastic playing. Senior Mysuru artiste Ramanujam on ghata was equally impressive. Their tani avartanam was enjoyable. The concluding pieces — 'Chinnanjiru Kiliye Kannamma' by Gopalakrishna Bharathi, Dayananda Saraswati's 'Ramam Bhaje Shyamam,' the ever-popular 'Krishna Nee Begane,' a Jinjhoti tillana and 'Sharanu Sakalodhara' — were all rendered with total involvement and devotion.

Bharatanatyam by Pooja Sugam and K.M. Sameeksha

On June 14, Sri Krishna Gana Sabha hosted a Bharatanatyam recital by two promising young dancers, Pooja Sugam and K.M. Sameeksha. Under the guidance of Guru Vid. Vijaykumar of Chennai, these artistes are steadily carving a niche for themselves through compelling duet performances. Their exploration of choreography was evident in the two self-choreographed pieces they presented, indicating a bright future ahead. This event was sponsored by Dr. C.G. Narasimhan and family.

The recital began with Muthuswami Dikshitar's 'Sri Gananaatham Bhajamyaham' in Raga Kanakangi, which was thoughtfully choreographed by the duo. This was followed by 'Om Sharavanabhava' (Raga: Shanmukhapriya), a unique composition by Ghatam Karthik.

The dancers effectively portrayed the various facets of Lord Muruga, with admirable stage presence and excellent coordination. Their crisp footwork and mature abhinaya (expressive gestures) were notable, particularly in the piece 'Ardhanareeshwaram' (Raga: Kumudakriya, Composer: Muthuswami Dikshitar). Guru Vijaykumar's brilliant choreography came alive in their confident execution.



Though the programme included just five items, the duo left a deep impression on the audience. Pooja's subtle abhinaya was captivating, while Sameeksha's vigorous portrayal of Shiva exuded strength and grace. The highlight of the evening was a padavarna composed by Vid. Lalgudi G. Jayaraman in Raga Charukeshi — 'Innum En Manam.' This Tamil varna explores the longing of the Nayika to unite with Lord Krishna.

The choreography's rapid transitions and unexpected sequences heightened the emotional depth and the inclusion of Kanakadasa as a sanchari was particularly moving.

Their final piece, 'Vishweshwara Darshan Kara' (Raga: Sindhubhairavi, Composer: Swathi Tirunal), featured an innovative prelude — a dramatisation of two devotees journeying to Kashi. This segment, conceptualised by the dancers themselves, added a creative and observational dimension to the performance.

Overall, Pooja Sugam and Sameeksha affirmed their talent and dedication, showing great promise as future torch-bearers of classical dance.

WORD OF THE DAY

Wherewithal

Pronunciation: WAIR-wih-thawl (noun).
Meaning: Wherewithal refers to the means, skills, resources or money that is needed to get or do something.
Origin: If wherewithal sounds like three words smashed together, that's because it is — sort of. Wherewithal combines where and withal, an adverb from Middle English that is itself a combination of with and all. In the past, wherewithal was used as a conjunction meaning "with or by means of which" and as a pronoun meaning "that with or by which." Today, however, it is almost always used as a noun to refer to the means or resources a person or entity has at their disposal. It refers especially to financial resources, but other means such as social influence, ability, and emotional capacity may also be termed as "wherewithal."
Example: "... it is heartening to know that there are people of real influence who have the will and wherewithal to help lift the city out of the doldrums." — Scott Wright, The Herald (Scotland), 15 May 2025.

THE ODD WORD

Patrizate

To imitate one's father or forebears.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Keep your nose clean

Meaning: This phrase 'Keep your nose clean' literally means: keep out of trouble, to behave. It is a metaphor of small children who don't know enough about politeness and manners to wipe their runny noses; as such, the phrase is often deployed in a condescending manner.
Origin: This phrase originated from another phrase "Keep the hands clean" which was widely used in England in the 18th century. It meant to avoid corruption and when it became adopted in the US, it became modified to "keep your nose clean" which literally meant to keep your nose out of what doesn't concern you. This new phrase then became widely adopted to mean avoiding doing anything shady.
Example: "Please keep your nose clean & stay far away from troublemakers."

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.

RAAGA Music Academy to host a grand flute recital

Mysuru, June 24- Music lovers in Mysuru are in for a soulful evening as Raaga Music Academy presents a grand flute recital featuring Vid. Amith Nadig at Sri Bidaram Krishnappanavara Prasanna Seetharama Mandira on Narayana Shastry Road in city on June 28 at 6 pm.

Amith Nadig

Vid. Amith Nadig, trained under the eminent Vid. B.K. Anantharam and the legendary Padma Bhushan Dr. R.K. Srikantan, has mastered the intricate Gayaki style of flute playing. A prodigious talent, he is among the youngest 'A' graded artistes of All India Radio (AIR) and was recently honoured with the prestigious Ustad Bismillah Khan Yuva Puraskar by the Government of India.

As a testimony to his craft and talent, he has performed extensively across continents — from Europe and the USA to Southeast Asia and the Middle East — collaborating with leading Indian and international musicians across Karnatak, Hindustani, Jazz and Fusion genres. Notably, he has performed with the world-renowned HR Big Band at the German Jazz Festival and the Alpentone Jazz Festival in Switzerland.

He is also the Managing Trustee of Musicians' Collective, an NGO fostering community among Karnatak musicians through concerts and workshops.

Joining him on stage will be an esteemed ensemble of artistes: Vid. Keshav Mohankumar on Violin, Vid. Anirudh Bhat on mridanga and Vid. R. Karthik on kanjira — each a seasoned performer in their own right.
